What is CAP-MR/DD?

- CAP-MR/DD stands for Community Alternatives Program for persons with Mental Retardation/Developmental Disabilities. It is a source of funding that pays for services and supports that allow people with developmental disabilities to stay in, or return to, their own communities instead of living in an institutional setting. CAP is a Medicaid waiver and is not based on the family's income. It is solely based on the need of the individual with the developmental disability.
- CAP/C stands for Community Alternatives Program for Children and provides an alternative to nursing facility and hospital care for individuals up to age 19 who live in a private residence, who have complex medical needs and who have been ruled disabled by Disability Determination Services (DDS). CAP/C may be used for children who are considered medically fragile.
